NEW Dishes, Same Pricing!

As another academic year draws to a close it's time for us to look back at the past few months and start planning for the September term. This process starts by reviewing our current menus and tariffs.

As in previous years and, as a starting point for the review, we identified the most popular products and ranges that we sell to our customers with a view to maintaining competitive and affordable prices across these key items. Therefore, I am pleased to announce that we have maintained existing prices on 95% of our lines, with an increase of just 0.4%.

The following list of products will not be increasing as part of this review:
